Hayes and David,

Saw your names in the Post, and I was wondering who was working on this. I am sure you are catching tremendous heat, and I am sorry for that. You are both strong, competent professionals, and I know you will hang in there. Reminds me of some of the heat from my Superfund and other days.

Below is some stuff off today's Facebook from Nathan and me. I recall a Silverton town meeting foray I took 21 yr ago. Hayes may have been there. I was the Brownfields Coordinator at the time.

Best
Marc

Nathan Fey--

After working on mine remediation projects in the San Juans with the San Miguel Watershed Coalition and the CO Watershed Network, I saw catastrophe like this as only a matter of time. Lets reform our outdated mining laws and empower good samaritans with limited liability so that mine clean-up can happen faster, and this doesn't happen again. It easily could.

Marc--Very sad, and I agree with Nathan. I am recalling how when with EPA I was sent to Silverton 21 yr ago to "ask" if the town wanted the mines designated as a Superfund site. This was in the beginning of Voluntary cleanups. We got a clear "no". I am not sure of the history since, or saying their decision was wrong. What a mess.
